

Apply today for the 2016 Neighborhood Leadership Program

Now in its sixth year, the Neighborhood Leadership Program, presented in partnership with Coro New York Leadership Center, provides leaders of community-based development organizations with the knowledge and skills to improve their leadership abilities and organizational management practices.

Kicking off in January 2016, the program will offer interactive leadership retreats and strategy days to train each participant on how to use specific tools and resources to address complex challenges in their neighborhoods.

Participants are also connected with Coro program alumni and other leaders from the economic development field in New York City.

Ideal candidates are:

- Working for an NYC nonprofit organization focused on commercial revitalization, neighborhood planning, or merchant organizing.
- Serving low to moderate income neighborhood(s).
- Prepared for an immersive, group-structured experience in commercial revitalization strategies and leadership development.
- Experienced executive or mid-level management staff.
